SELECTED CASES

Perotti v. Quinones, No. 14-1229, 790 F.3d 712 (7th Cir. 2015). Seventh Circuit affirmed lower court denial of writ of habeas corpus ad testificandum and having prisoner testify by video conferencing. Law Student Anna Stephens argued the case.

Norton v. Stille, No. 12-1778 (6th Cir. Jun. 15, 2013). Sixth Circuit affirmed lower court denial of qualified immunity to the defendant and that the Heck's doctrine did not apply. Law Student Leah Stirling argued the case. The case is on remand and will be tried in 2014.

Gavins v. Hofbauer, et al., No. 2:09-cv-48, 2012 WL 1578919 (W.D.Mich. 5.4.2012), Bell, J. District Court held that Plaintiff's counsel had properly served the subpoena directed to the non-party Director, Michigan Department of Corrections, by hand-delivering it to the Litigation Coordinator for the MDOC.

Sallier v. Ramsey, 2005 WL 1869703 (6th Cir. 2005). Law student argued case in appellate court. Court held that Prison Litigation Reform Act limited attorneys' fees to 150% of trial court monetary judgment even if prison officials.

Jones Bey v. Johnson, 407 F.3d 801, 806 (6th Cir.2005), rev'd and remanded, Bey v. Johnson, 549 U.S. 1190 (2007). In a pro se appeal, the Sixth Court held that total exhaustion of prison administrative remedy is required under the Prison Litigation Reform Act when a complaint contains both exhausted and unexhausted claims. The district court must dismiss the complaint without prejudice. The Clinic filed a motion for appointment as counsel, which was granted. The Clinic then filed a motion for rehearing and rehearing en ban, which was denied. The Supreme Court case was not handled by the Clinic but reversed the Sixth Circuit.

Sallier v. Brooks, 343 F.3d 868 (6th Cir. 2003). Court held that mail from a court was to be treated as legal mail and opened in front of the prisoner.

Reilly v. Grayson, 310 F.3d 519 (6th Cir. 2002), affirming 157 F.Supp.2d 762 (E.D. Mich. 2001). Court affirmed award of $36,500 in compensatory and $18,250 in punitive damages for being subjected to Environmental Tobacco Smoke in violation of the Eighth Amendment.

Reynolds v. Green, 184 F.3d 589 (6th Cir. 1999). Court held that it was plain error for trial court not to correct verdict form which improperly asked jurors to determine whether threat by inmate's mother to report officer to his superiors was "the" motivating factor behind the filing of false misconduct charges. The word "a" was to be substitute for "the."

Key v. Grayson, 179 F.3d 996 (6th Cir. 1999). Court held that application of American with Disabilities Act and Federal Rehabilitation Act to state prisoners was not clearly established prior to 1996 in the granting of qualified immunity to a damage claim. After remand, the case settled on second day of trial.

Howard v. Grinage, 82 F.3d 1343 (6th Cir. 1996). Court held that prison officials would be liable to inmate if they acted intentionally or with deliberate indifference to his liberty interests in deciding to place him in protective segregation, which resulted in an increase security confinement, and their motivation in denying due process for failure to hold a hearing was not relevant to establishing liability.

Taylor v. Michigan Dept. of Corrections, 69 F.3d 76 (6th Cir. 1995). Court held that summary judgment improperly granted on issue of whether warden failed to take reasonable steps to ensure that vulnerable inmates would not be transferred to facility where substantial risk of serious harm existed. On remand, the case was settled.

Muhammad v. Pitcher, 35 F.3d 1081 (6th Cir. 1994). Court held unconstitutional prison policy of opening mail from State Attorney General's Office outside the presence of the inmate.

Glaspy v. Malicoat, 134 F.Supp.2d 890 (W.D. Mich. 2001). Court held prison staff liable for not allowing the visitor to use bathroom, which resulted in his urinating on himself. Court awarded $5,000 in compensatory and $5,000 in punitive damages.
