This fall, Michigan State University College of Law will be hosting the 9th Annual National Trial Advocacy Competition. This competition is designed for teams of four participants, two advocates and two witnesses. Participants will have an opportunity to perfect their courtroom advocacy skills before judges, practitioners, and other law schools from across the nation.

The competition will be held on October 23, 24 & 25, 2008, on the campus of the Michigan State University College of Law. If you are interested in participating in the National Trial Advocacy Competition this fall, please register your school at www.law.msu.edu/ntac. Registration will be open through July 25, 2008, and accepted teams will be notified via email on August 6, 2008. If you have any questions, please contact Amanda Deering at ntac@law.msu.edu.

More information about the problem as well as competition details will be provided later this summer via the competition website. Thank you and we look forward to hearing from you soon!

Sincerely,
